A fascinating role playing graphic adventure game set in London for the Basic 16K TI-99/4A computer.

The opening scene is set in Trafalgar Square. Your search for the hidden instructions will take you through the streets and buildings of London. But beware the ungodly are everywhere.

And this is only the beginning . . .

The screen display presents you with both 3D locations, aerial views and energy levels, while the text gives you your location and the things you can see.
This is all displayed simultaneously.

The game is fast playing using easy input commands. There will be many adventures on your journey through London to complete your ultimate quest.
